If you're a parent, you know how difficult it can be to get young people to take an interest in their health. This task becomes especially difficult when it comes to making sure they get the right nutritional support every day.

New MannaBears® are Mannatech's latest product innovation for young people. These colorful, chewy supplements in a gummibear shape are sweetened with natural cane juice crystals and tapioca syrup for a unique glyconutritional snack that young people will come back for again and again.

In addition to its specially formulated glyconutritional blend, MannaBears® provide the nutritional goodness of ten different dehydrated fruits and vegetables, including pomegranate powder, which is recognized as an excellent antioxidant. MannaBears® are ideal for young people.
